NEW TRIER WEST HIGH SCHOOL

NORTHFIELD, ILLINOIS
60093

A new day has begun . . .
for those who can experience
the joy of discovery . . .
the excitement of expressing individuality . . .
with the poetry
that is the soul.
Vitality flourishes in this environment . . .
where life neither begins or ends at three-thirty . . .
but only continues in a different vein;
yet, when the halls thin out and the noise dies away
in the dusk . . .
the shadow of tomorrow lingers on.

"Twentieth century America builds schoolhouses with the fervor and at times with the breath-taking imagination with which Europe in the Middle Ages built cathedrals. Possibly we shall never in all our future time build prouder monuments to our hopes and our faith than we shall build in our children's schools."

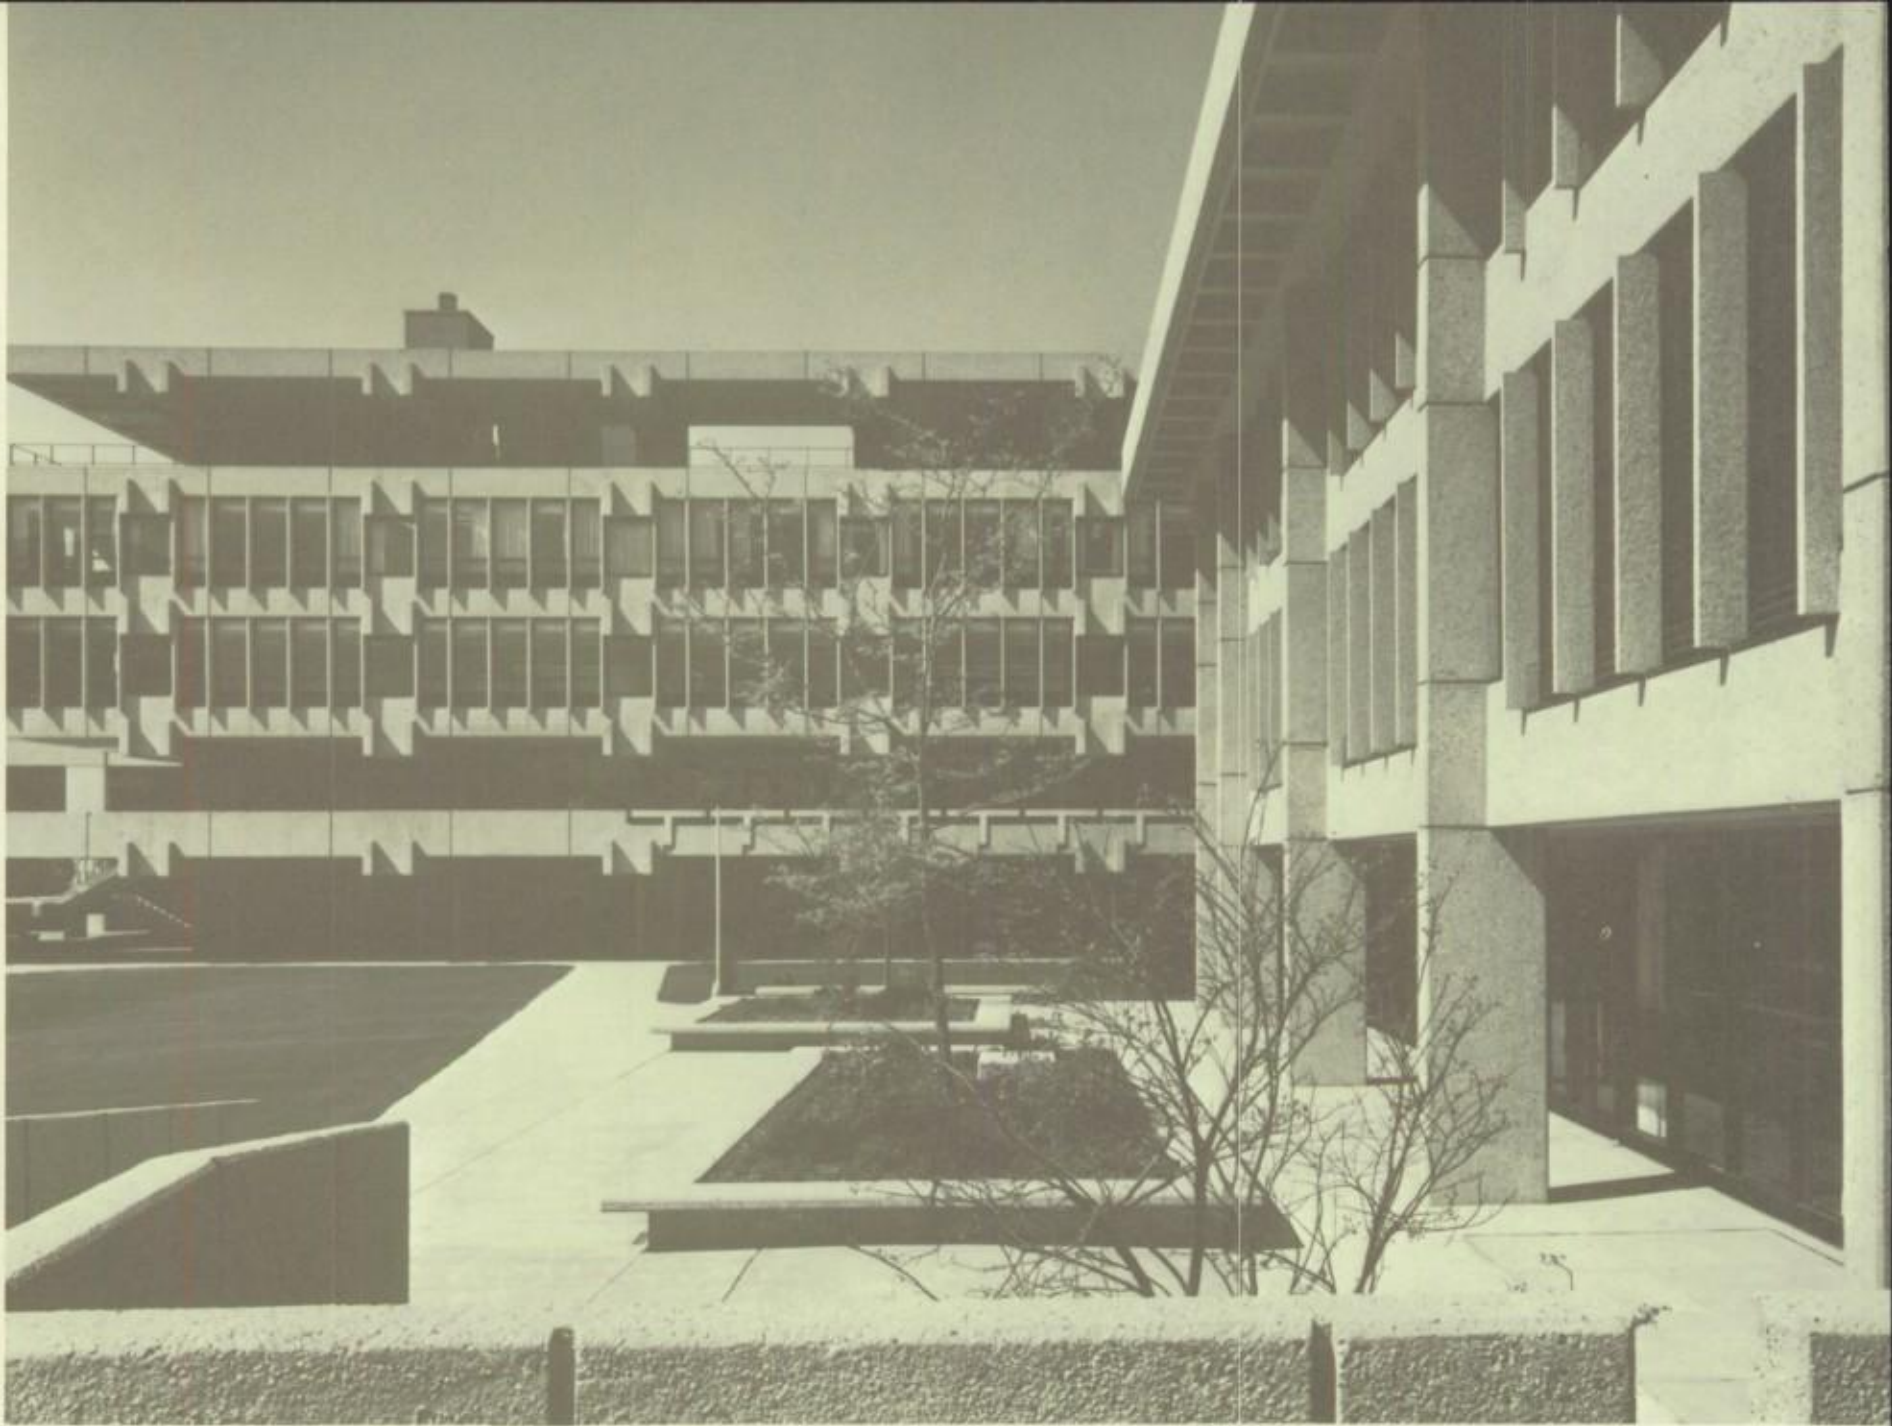

Dr. Cornog in
the New York Times
October 12, 1958

"Perhaps it is only my affection for the place, but when I look at these photographs and realize that New Trier West will soon become an educational artifact, tears come to my eyes. It is indeed a rare statement in school architecture. What a shame it is that so few will ever realize that. There is a subtle quality about these pictures befitting the elegant, fragile and functional design that New Trier West is."

James F. Marran

Growing Up in the Suburbs During the '60's.

I am pleased at the luck of having grown up during a time of social upheaval and proud to have participated. In speaking with people only a couple of years younger than myself it becomes apparent how quickly the rebellious spirit of that time — and particularly its effect upon people's social/political/economic outlooks — dissipated after the U.S. defeat in Indochina. Of course every generation might tend to mark its time as being of primary historical significance, yet the 60's were a decade of global conflagration predominated by the war in Vietnam.

For myself and unprecedented numbers of people, the war in Vietnam forged an indelible imprint upon our attitude toward the United States. We saw the role the U.S. government in fact played in the world, particularly since WWII, and the ones we ourselves were expected to take. It razed the idols of John Kennedy and the office of president itself, and introduced for the first time as regular parlance such words as revolution and imperialism, words which embodied living ideas to so much of the world but which theretofore had held only historical meaning within the United States. Further, it imparted a cynicism toward the accepted political and social concepts of this country. Unfortunately, where many of the beautiful hopeful and energized ideals of that decade have been forgotten or co-opted, distrust and despair have remained.

At New Trier West all this social upheaval had its peculiar effect and outlet. For while Vietnam was being destroyed and the civil rights struggle (a subsequently co-opted term) was being hotly waged here, none of this had a direct impact upon us, unless of course someone we knew was unable to escape the draft or for some reason had enlisted. Herein lay one of the great contradictions about the school and its community. New Trier was/is at the apex of the American Dream, in terms of material success, and in seeing on TV and reading about the very real struggles that people were forced to undertake for their mere subsistence, we were faced with the irreconcilable class distinctions between us — the haves, and them — the haven'ts. New Trier West's pride as a school has always been based on its academic quality and this is certainly legitimate. Teachers could look to being able to teach more and police less. There were no knifings, gang wars, or attacks on teachers. There were the oft-quoted figures on how many New Trier students went on to college (money of course being an unspoken factor.) Yet this quality was achieved because the financial security of the community allowed this. And the stability of the community was achieved through its escape from the adversity of the city. This meant that its highly-touted education had to take place in something of a vacuum. All our social studies questions about oppression and liberation, labor and unemployment, and the impact of a fluxuating economy — all these were studies in abstract terms because we were basically untouched by them. This created a strange atmosphere for social protest. The prevailing fever of change and confrontation had created a feeling of community that even high school students could participate in. At New Trier though, the pillar of Reason was so firmly entrenched that both sides were using it as their principle banner. In 1969, we organized an illegal student walk-out in conjunction with the national one. For a chilly November, we generated a lot of heat. In 1970 we sat around the special conference room and organized the second one with faculty help. Point being that everyone got along so well because we all wanted to be reasonable. Everything could be talked out. Except that all the struggles that people were giving their lives for had such a terrible ring to them: If everything could be worked out reasonably, why were all these people dying? Who could accept Malcolm X when Martin Luther King was so much more reasonable? In other words, if it wasn't reasonable, we just couldn't get it! Yet the contradictions persisted, such that we either had to change or turn our backs on them.

The 80's look to be another decade of confrontation which will pull us out of ourselves (unwillingly to be sure, for there is no place like the U.S. for living "the good life" as the world goes by.) This time unfortunately, the emphasis on peace and love may not have the strength it did them, for the world is fast closing in on us, demanding our attention and our action.

PIONEERS

Members of the faculty and staff of New Trier West since September, 1965

Most of us on these pages came here originally from our sister school when New Trier West first opened its doors in 1965, with the desire and determination to carry on the best New Trier traditions as developed by previous generations of students and teachers, and to create new and exciting innovations in education which our magnificent new plant gave us the latitude to do.

We believe, that, with the help of our students and parents, we have accomplished what we set out to do; that is, to create a school which, with the vitality of its students, the breadth of its curricular and extracurricular offerings, the esprit de corps of faculty, staff and administration, has been second to none.

I graduated from New Trier West two years ago, and I am embarrassed to admit that I can no longer remember the words to our fight song. My cowboy hat, the symbol of my allegiance to N.T.W. that I would raise high with every cowboy victory, has now fallen into relative obscurity on my closet shelf. Long ago, I stopped explaining to people that there are actually two New Triers, an East and a West; and that I went to the better one. So the notion of a single New Trier, which does not sport the colors blue and gray and which does not serve as the "home of the cowboys," is not difficult for me to accept. What would be tragic and unacceptable would be a "new" New Trier which lacked any of the unique opportunities and institutions that N.T.W. has always offered.

Although I may have forgotten the words to "Fight, Cowboys, Fight," I can still recall the highly professional and approachable NTW faculty who consider their responsibilities as "teachers" to extend beyond the classroom and give of themselves as club sponsors and coaches. I recall working with Student Association and Non-Class Time, two organizations that are effective in providing students with a means of influencing their own education. I mention S.A. and N.C.T. not because they are the only organizations that share this characteristic, but because they are, indeed, unique to NTW. Finally, I can still recall the tremendous diversity of the NTW student body and the institution of NTW as a place in which the active pursuit of an interest, be it photography or bicycling, is not judged eccentric but is encouraged. It is my sincere hope that beneath the school colors of the new New Trier these fine traditions of New Trier West will carry on.

Steve Gavin, NTW '78

Thanks,

to the many people who offered suggestions and ideas, who shared memories and mementos. They were most helpful. Our special thanks go to Morris Ferensen and William Hunter of Hunter Publishing Co. for their technical and production counsel and service, and to Perkins and Will in association with The Architects Collaborative for use of the following photographs:

We are pleased to dedicate this New Trier West "family album" to the thousands of young people who lived it, and to the hundreds of staff members who sustained it. We hope it will at least suggest what it was like . . .

"Mama . . .
 Why can't I stay and play?"
 "This rocket can take
 Me to the moon and back
 And today I jumped
 The school on the swing . . .
 Oh please mama
 can I stay and play?"

A tear falls in
 My hand and
 Far-away eyes
 Bitterly cry out of
 Rockets and swings that Hit the earth.

PROUDER 10 BE F-ROOM COMBOY COUNTRY

Life is Like one big Soap Opera
(and I'm choking on the bubbles.)

Susie's in love with Henry,
Henry's in it with Jill.

Jill couldn't care any less about him
'cause she's head over heels over Bill.

Bill says that he loves her,
but as he walks through the streets, he casually makes a pass at every pretty girl he meets.

Jill catches Bill at his flirting so she uses poor Henry as bait not caring how much he'll be hurting she says "yes" she'll go out on a date.

Susie then gets the idea (chalk one up for Jill) and does her absolute darndest to catch the eye of Bill.

Bill falls for her strategy and walks into the trap!

And oh, how ironically the girls' plans fire back.

Now Henry and Jill are married —
Sue and Bill follow closely behind.
And what began as a war of jealous hearts

Become True Loves, almost too hard to find.

"We're all seniors this year."

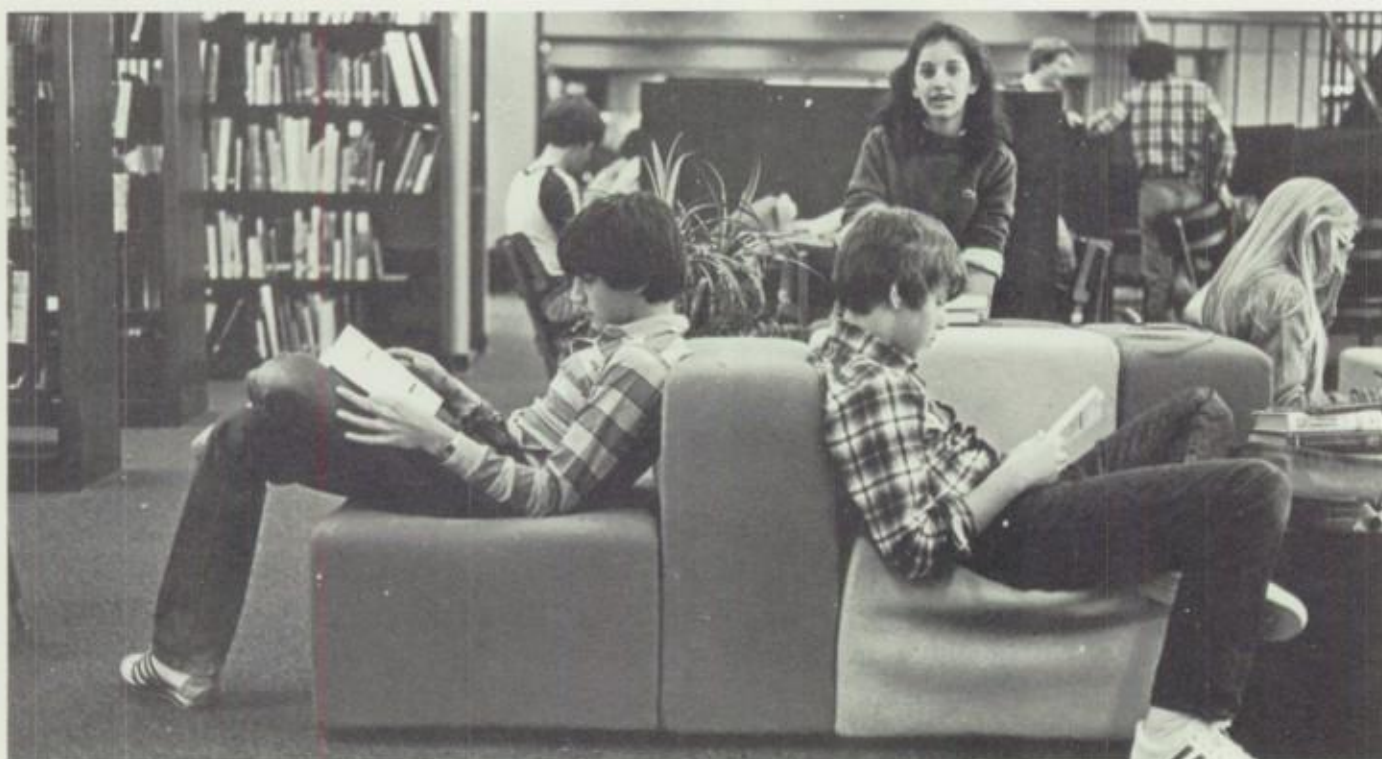

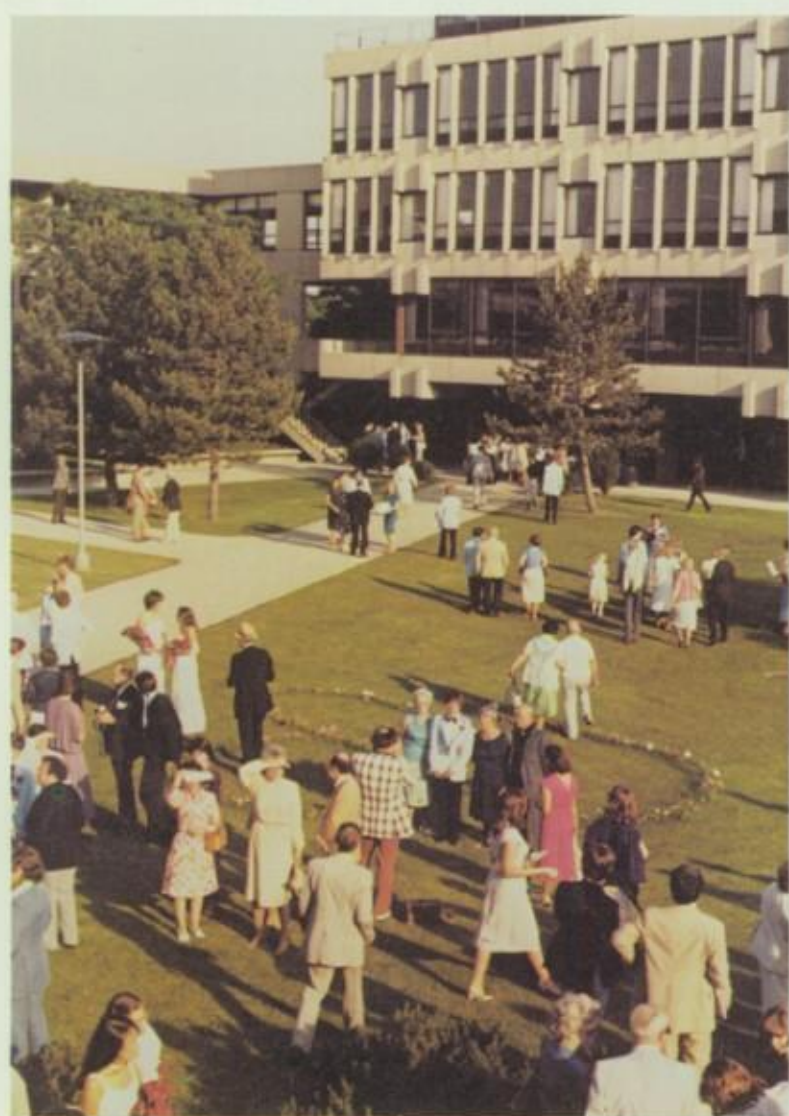

Words unspoken
Thoughts unbroken
Silent hearts that yearn to sing
Phrases written so carelessly.

Unspilled tears
Forgotten years
Secret feelings still in hiding
Lips that form words never meant.
Thoughts still buried in treasure's depth
Captured forever in memories breath.

Walking
They say
Takes people
Places,
Like you out of my
Everyday travels.

Camera-man, catch that rainbow
 It's the only one in the sky.
 And if only in a picture,
 I will be able to feel it always.
 Days were when rainbows caught Me.

So — catch the hues, my camera-man,
 With all its complementary-contrasts,
 And I will put the picture in my Pocket to keep it
 Dry from the Rain.

This is not the end, my friend,
but just a new start!
I'm glad that you could make it,
in happiness we shall depart!

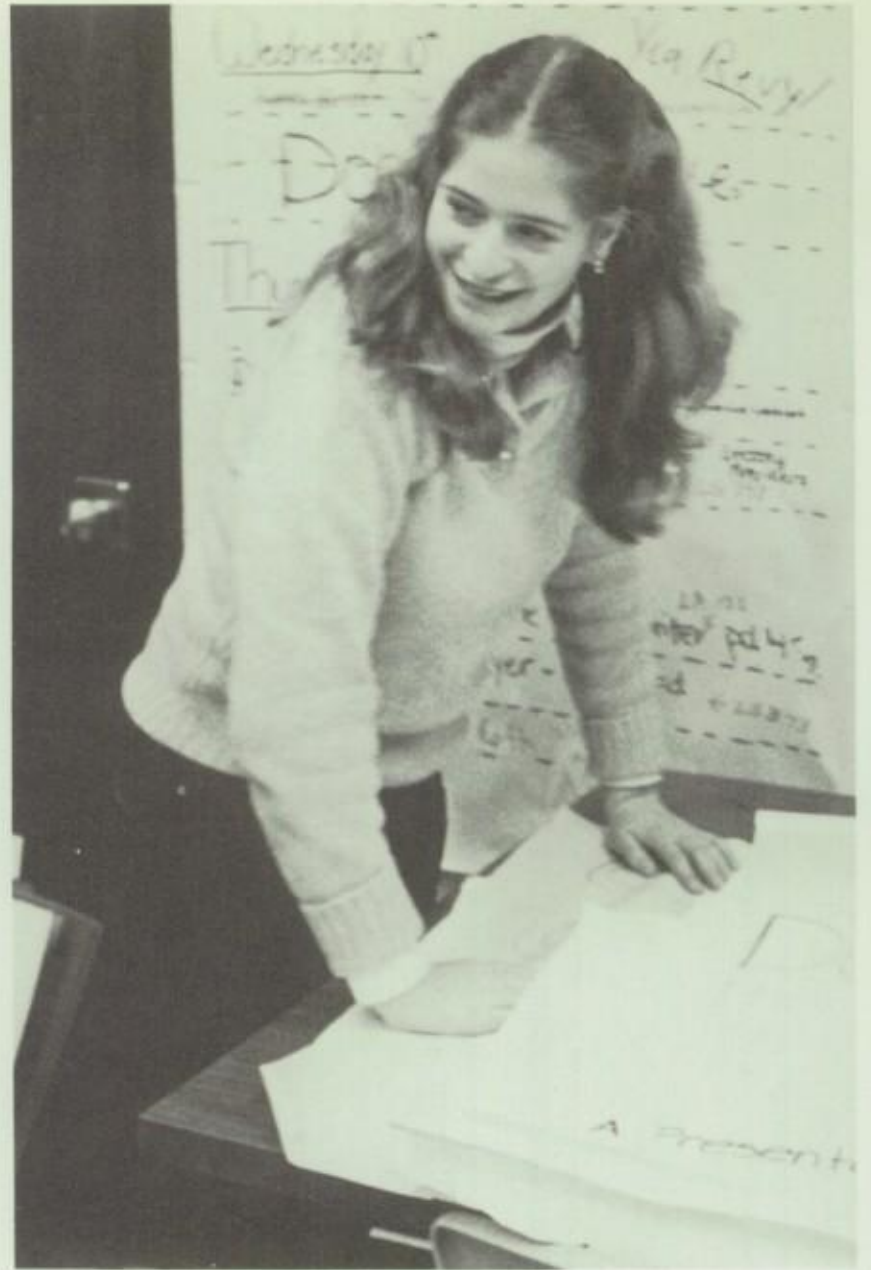

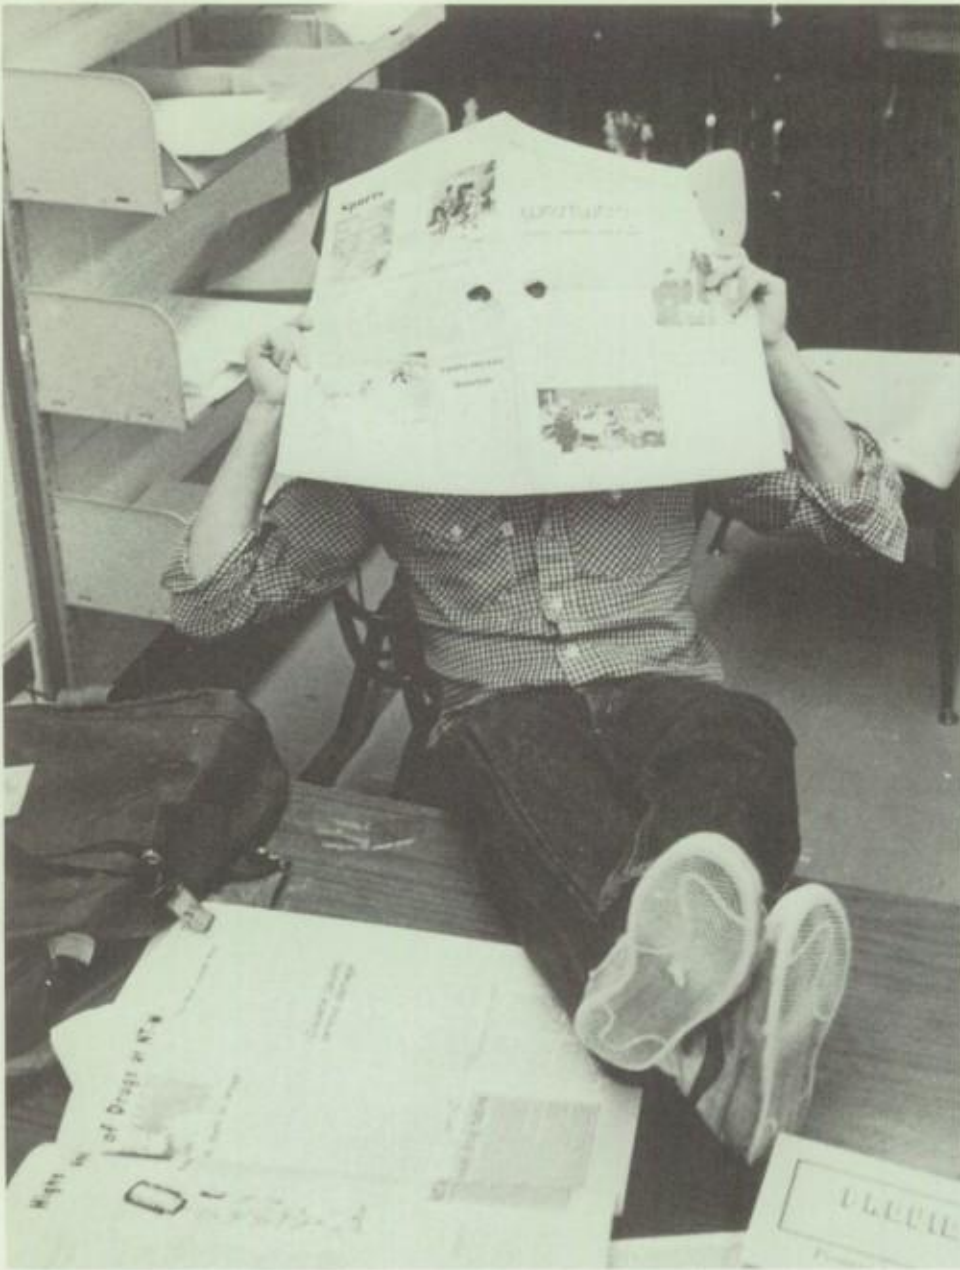

This moment in time,
too unclear to capture,
will remain in our hearts,
and fill our memories for always!

There will come a time
When we'll all look back,
and feel the — endless laughter
— burning ever after!
All good things must come to pass!

Who's to say
What tomorrow's Dawn
will bring to tomorrow's day?
Will
Fate of fortune
Pull a trick
And read our merry way?
And if by fate
will stumbling
Be our new pace?

CLUBS

In Vestiges 1966, there were nine clubs listed under NT-W's extracurricular organizations: Student Council, New Trier News, Soundtracks, Pep Club, Tri-Ship, Student Tutoring, Intra-Murals, Girl's Club, and the Girl's Athletic Association. There are now almost 30 clubs at our school, including two clubs established this year — Hosting Club and War Games. However, one thing that is still the same after 16 years is that the clubs continually have provided an outstanding chance for students to experience their special interests and possible career choices.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

An essay on SA:
'Twas many years ago
when a 'new' government was formed in the kingdom of Trier. The government, which was named SA, ruled for 16 happy and wonderful years.
In the 17th year, a new government will be formed and one thing that is sure,
SA will contribute a great deal to the new government of Trier.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Social service is more than just an after school activity. For as much as you put in, you get back — and more!

By volunteering at local hospitals or homes for the aged, a social service member acquires the knowledge and capability to share and give of himself to make others happy — just by being there for them. The ability to listen and understand, and the compassion that must be felt, are gifts the the Social Service experience can offer.

VESTIGES

What went into the making of THE LAST VESTIGES? Glad you asked. First, almost a year of planning. Right. We start in June preparing for the next book! This year's planning included the special segment dealing with the school's history. Next, we started considering ideas for a theme. Want to know what the theme of the yearbook is? Look carefully.

Well, it's not an apple being eaten, it's not an armadillo, or even a picture album or textbook. Have you guessed it yet? How about a re-creation of the past sixteen years with a focus on the LAST year of New Trier West.

WNTH

WNTH 88.1 FM — ready to brighten your day!

This last year was especially bright. This year was the first time that shows were equally scheduled between East and West. Reflecting back we will always remember: Steve Feffer's New Wave Show, Mark Sneider's Jazz Transfusion, NITE TALK with Anne Daleidan and Tim Nelson and many music specials throughout the year. "And that concludes our programming day."

WAR GAMES

Every Tuesday after school these warhawks gathered together for an exciting session of bazooka blowing and guerilla warfare. Actually, these strategic students met in Mr. Ingersoll's classroom (alias "The Front" or "The Battlefield") and engaged in "board" game confrontations: Stratego, Risk, Battleship, etc.

DEBATE

Is it too soon or is it too late — who is on the right side in a debate?

Am I wrong or am I right —
let's decide instead of fight.
Speak your mind, don't be afraid

I've said my thoughts, my decision is made.

Don't ever be too quick to decide for there always is another side.

FOLIO

Remember when your 6th grade English teacher used to say: "Quantity doesn't make quality!"? Well, now you know why Folio, NT-W's literary magazine comes only once a year. One issue is packed with enough creative quality work to last you a whole year! Appropriately enough, this year's Folio produced an extra special and outstanding issue which will have to last more than just one year.

TRAINERS

How do you know if someone is a trainer? One way to tell is if you hear them constantly humming to themselves:

"Band-aid sticks where it's suppose to — but it doesn't stick where it's not suppose to." If you're still not sure — ask them what they do on weekends and if they reply: "Play doctor!" — you'll know for sure!!!

Sixteen years of excellence in athletics.

FOOTBALL

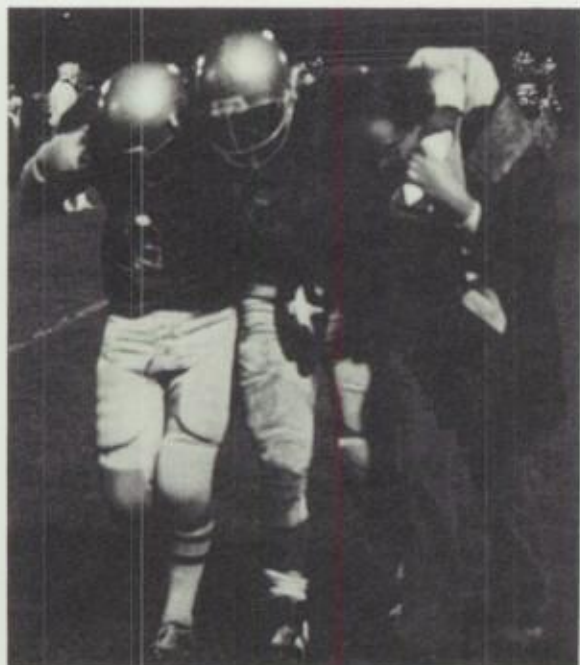

After a hard day of school, the quarterback arrives at practice to let out all his frustrations. The football represents his homework which he would like to kick and throw away as far as possible. The "field" itself represents his tests that he mutilates with his cleats. And during the big game, at the end of the week, the opposing team represents those teachers who gave him an "F" on those mutilated tests.

SOCCER

NT-W's version of "The Sting" is always in top condition. If NT-W was open one more year, and my best friend from out of town was in, he would ask me: "Will you show me what your school is all about?" I would take him to a spirit and action filled NT-W soccer game and he would get the picture (and ask his Mom whether he could move to NT township).

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country.
Across the country they run.
Dedicated to energy and endless
wandering,
they continue on their weary way:
Living, running, and feeling the Pain.
Wind rushing past their ears leaving the dreary, everyday life behind.

BOYS' TENNIS

Who has served up the most aces at NT-W this spring? Why, the boys' tennis team of course! Volleying, rallying, serving and smashing their way to success the team looks forward to completing another fine season led by the play of senior Bob DuBois and junior Bruce Brown.

Varsity. Front: S. Goeben, T. Gedemer, T. Gedemer, A. Nordahl, C. Grodzin. Rear: Mr. Sneiter — coach, D. Patzwald, R. Dubois, B. Brown, L. Zimmerman, J. Volkert. Absent: R. Kenney.

Choi, P. Hellstrom, E. Mancillas, R. George, J. Klein, A. Hirsch, E. Goll. Absent: R. Prudencio.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

After seasons of winning basketball many people counted the Cowboys out prematurely this year. However, by mid-season the newspaper headlines read "New Trier West roars back to life." Sparked by the shooting, scoring and rebounding of Andy Fischer and Brian Shifrin, the Cowboys upheld their reputation as one of the toughest teams around. Which goes to show, the game is not over until the final buzzer sounds.

Varsity. Front: H. Alter, manager, B. Leinbach, R. Bentley, B. Steinke, A. Fischer, B. Shifrin, D. Cox, J. Stempel, D. Blesius — manager. Rear: Mr. Sheets — head coach, T. Steinman, D.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

When these girls take the court they work hard to excel at their sport.

Rebounding, shooting, running is done at their best throughout the whole season for the honor of New Trier West. From November to March these dedicated girls are striving to win in order to force their coaches to grin!

BOYS' SWIMMING

It is dawn on the NT-W horizon.
The swimming pool is dark and calm.

Tiny ripples shine and twinkle across the water.

Mr. Woodbury sits at his desk in deep contemplation
of the challenges of the day.

All of a sudden —
The quiet air is broken with the sound
of running bare feet.
The feet of the BLUE WAVE!
(ready for a refreshing 6:30 workout.)

Dawn becomes morning.
Bright lights reflect off the pool.
The water becomes unsettled and rushes in the tankers' ears.

Mr. Woodbury stands up and hums to himself:
"The tide is high and I don't know why."

The answer comes right back:
The challenge is why!

Varsity. Front: K. Malak, E. Mancillas, C. Sholten, S. Iida. Middle: M. O'Meara, R. Walle, D. Bellows, R. Plotsky, C. Dunn, T. Mallers, R. Adams. Rear: C.

GIRLS' TRACK

"Who was that Golden girl?"

"According to my handy The Complete Book of Running, written by my true love (sigh!) Jim Fixx, that girl is a member of the NT-W Girls' Track team!"

"The NT-W Girls' Track team is listed in The Complete Book of Running?"

"Of course! Where do you think Jim Fixx got the inspiration for his book?!?!?"

Miller, Ms. Burke — Asst. coach. Rear: J. Mitchell, R. Jacobson, H. Pittler, K. Pottinger, K. Capelan, M. Gartner, A. Sosin.

GYMNASTICS

From the springboard to the vault (alias the "horse") to walkovers on the balance beam. From a round off flip flop sumi on the floor to a front sumi on the unevens and finally a drop kip catch to win another of the many competitions throughout the year — the Girls' Gymnastics Team displays its fearless personality and skill.

Allans, C. Birkenstein, D. Gould, G. Hecht. Rear: Mr. Lill — coach, K. Jones, M. VanDerbosch, T. Rooth, R. Gilbert.

SOFTBALL

There are the Cubs, the White Sox and then there is the NT-W Girls' Softball team. After an excruciating "disco" warm up in the dance gym the Cowgirls sprinted onto the diamond and dazzled NT-W softball fans with their amazing strength, their lightning speed and charismatic smiles on the field.

Junior Varsity. Front: H. Quinlan, T. Engleman, S. Calderini, K. Coffield. Second: D. Klineman, J. Zimmeroff, K. Pottinger, B. Wise. Third: L. Kupperman, L. Beaubaire, J. Magil, L.

BADMINTON

"What's all this talk I hear about bad mittens? How can you call those poor, adorable, soft, little things — bad? What about the three kittens? Are you accusing them of wearing evil garments? As far as I'm concerned, all mittens are beyond contempt! Now as for gloves — I have seen some corrupt and absolutely scandalous black leather gloves. Gloves are rough, sleazy and . . ." "Uh, excuse . . . that's Badminton — not bad mittens — we're talking about the game Badminton, as in racquets and birdies. As in NT-W's successful and hardworking Girls' Badminton team . . ."

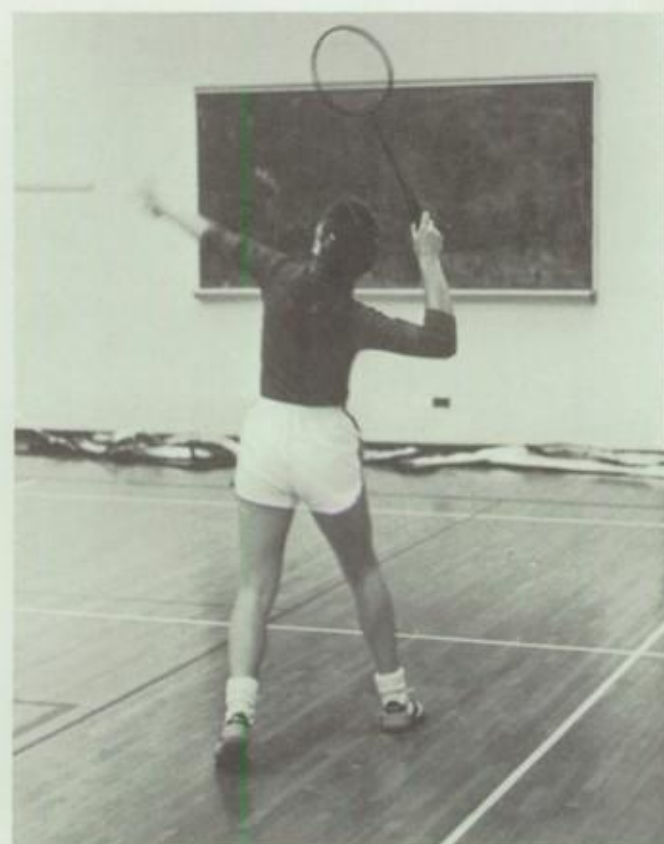

Varsity. Front: N. Klein, K. Choi, L. Weiss, A. Dicesare, L. Levin, Ms. Malazola — coach. Rear: S.

Handwerker, K. Scannell, S. Wilson, C. Bruce, D. Winchester, L. Bartz, P. Weiler, P. Auychai.

Dubois, M. Fink, J. Anderson, J. Zehren, J. Pottinger, T. Sennott, J. Stolpe, Mr. Morgan — coach.

HOCKEY CLUB

Here I lie with my foot in the air — out for the rest of the season! How did it happen, you ask, my friend? It's that rough and tough game of hockey! Skating with spirit down the ice — an opposing "rookie" entered my space skating hard: he encountered me, checked me and it was a SLAP SHOT right into . . . my foot!

Junior Varsity. Front: S. Brenner, P. Clemis, S. Saunders, M. Abt, D. Sharpe, A. Swerdlow, G. McRae. Rear: M. Haddon, P. Clarke, G. Greenstein, J. Gridley, C. Keis, B.

Schlagger, R. Funk, C. Bailey, E. Walder, A. Eisenberg, C. Grodzin, Mr. Kelly — coach.

WRESTLING

Who is that man towering over the wrestling team? What is he bellowing about? Well, if you're a NT-W student and you can't answer these 2 questions — I'd like to know what hole you've been hiding in this last year!

Mr. Simms is the proud wrestling coach who brought his team to a most successful and victorious finish this season — better than ever before!

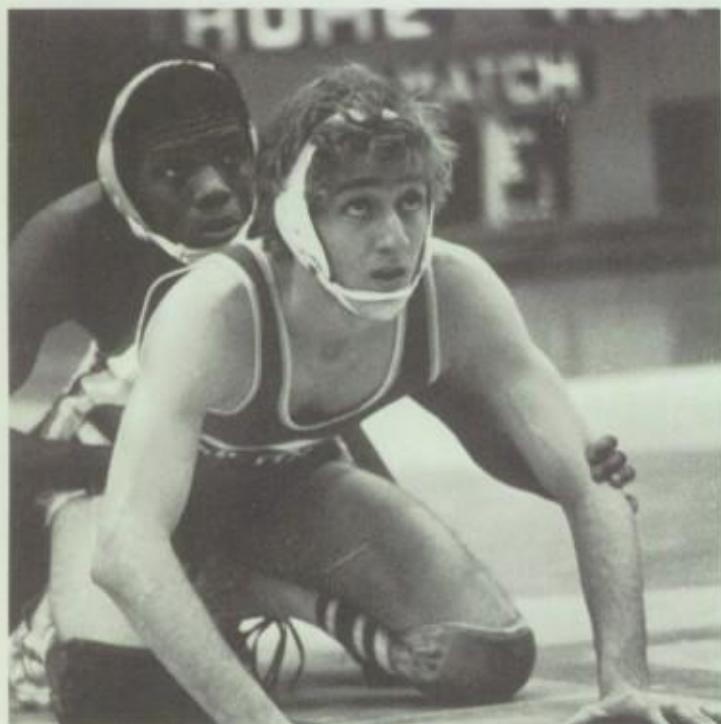

Varsity. Front: G. Brown, D. Park, P. Ferzacca, K. Leonard, B. Berish, R. Baygood. Rear: A. Brill, C.

Smolensky, F. McCabe, W. Krogman, W. Emory, B. Cohen, Mr. Simms — coach.

Varsity. Front: R. Berne, S. Goeben, J. Sciarra. Rear: Mr. Campbell — coach, E. Horwitz, M. Holmes, B. Brown.

FENCING

On guard, you swine. I challenge you to a duel. I will carve you up like a piece of swiss cheese. What! You know not how to fence? Well. It's simple. Here, take my weapon and hold it like this. Now, the idea is to hit the little heart right here. No! Wait, you traitor. That's mine! So you won't give it back? Curses, foiled again.

Junior Varsity. Front: S. Fischer, S. Quaid, K. Kiddle, M. Gassner. Rear: Mr. Campbell — coach, S. Holmberg, A. Fetzer, M. Tang, V. Truong.

LACROSSE

This years Lacrosse team showed much promise on and off the field. With a new coach, Pete Longaway, who dedicated his afternoons to develop the skills of the kids, the team was off to a good start. There was a strong dedication and desire to push the Lacrosse Team to its greatest potential. Off the field, the spirit and companionship between the players was greater than ever. No wonder this year's Lacrosse season was so successful!

Varsity. M. Hunt, P. Thomas, J. Anderson, S. Kolpas, K. Footlik, R. Abt, S. Cohen, J. Becker, D. Friedman, J. Dubois. Rear. J. Calhoun, P. Haffenberg, C. Brandt, B.

PERFORMING ARTS

I spend each
Day in rehearsals
For a play creating
A life, a being
A character
On a stage.
I do so well
The people say
At creating lives.
Acting they call it.
Why then
Can I not create
Myself
On my stage of Life
To be perfect.

POTPOURRI

Memories of a true celebration!

Carrie smoking three cigarettes at once.

Gary: "Can I show you The wine de list or the list de wine?"

Susie Balaban got a big present: Mount St. Helen. Everyone yelled something during Fred's surprise party solo.

Jack Nicholson's many surprise visits.

Abbie playing under ladders.
"Grab some beer! Munch out a bit (Not!)

STUDIO THEATRE

Cast. L. Bradner, L. Gelfond, T. Kapsalis, L. Redman, D. Shiner, M. Mayster, C. Gordon, D. Hirsch. Second: S. Lifson, T. Fragen, J. Herman, L. Sturges, D. Hoffman, D.

Bronstein, J. Olin, E. Weiss, S. Haft. Rear: D. Hirsch, L. Galbraith, D. Smith, B. Schlagger, A. Hirsch, J. Lazarus, R. Hain. Absent: S. Postol — student director.

Studio Theatre was created in 1967 to provide experience and training for new students in the theatre program and an opportunity for the presentation of different and "out of the ordinary" plays and performances. Studio Theatre II presented a new play by James L. Rosenberg, The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch. As is often the case in the history of institutions, Studio Theatre XIV made it a complete circle and again presented, The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch, a fun and fast-moving satire of our somewhat glorified mythical impression of the old west. A very appropriate play for the Cowboys' last year.

CREW

The "Crew babies" had a lot to CELEBRATE this last year. This year's crew had a record-breaking number of members and freshmen involved. This gave them the opportunity to create quality sets for bigger and better shows. It's incredibly hard to describe the unity and friendship between "crew babies", however, one word that comes to mind for all who know them is — "family."

Senior Crew. Left to Right: K. Kleeman, D. Ottoman.

Junior Crew. Left to Right: S. Ingwersen, W. Grossman, G. Hecht, J. Newman, A. Blumeneau, M. Good, B. Harrow, L. Fink.

Crew. Front: L. Nelson, J. Herman, J. Citow, D. Jacobson, D. Cohen, J. Hertel, D. Bronstein. Second: D. Smith, K. Kleeman, P. Wagon, B. Denenberg, L. Grabemann, K. Hall. Third: A. Blumeneau, M. Good, B. Grossman, G. Hecht, B. Horn, G. Zagon, P. Weakly, E. Wise, G. Rothchild, J. Kiddle, E. Falcon. Rear: L. Gold, K. Klem, S. Ingerson, J. Niemann, R. Kaman, D. Ottoman, D. Premak, A. Wolfe, L. Coletta, D. Hirsh. Absent: J. Hopmayer, J. Sciarra.

USHER CORPS

(Setting: NT-W Auditorium)

Theatre goer (impatiently): Excuse me, are you an usher?

Usher (politely): Yes, Sir.

T.G: Can you show me where my seats are?

Usher: Walk straight until you get to the third doorway and turn left — walk down the hall past the second water fountain, turn right and then hang a "Louie" — go up the carpeted stairway until you get to the 17th row, take a left and then another "Roscoe", step over the row behind you and walk left and look for seat no. 13 — and that's your seat.

T.G: Thank you. Now can you say that one more time a little slower?

Usher Corps. Front: C. Bogot, W. Birndorf, J. Smyth, S. Payvar, B. Satherlie, D. Shiner, J. Walder, P. Lindahl. Second: S. Milkes, M. Rukin, P. Gordon, B. Katz, L. Cohen, M. Elegant, J. Coren. Third: N. Bender, C. Papangelis, S. Shapiro, E. Rifkin, K. Lenhart, D. Schroeder, Y. Aimi, K. Lane. Fourth: H. Waterstradt, L. Sturges, S. Shapiro, C. Wick, L. Hutchings, L. Offenber, A. Liu. Fifth: J.

Waxman, B. Denenberg, E. Patras, C. Putlack, B. Causs, A. Dolinko, L. Levin. Sixth: T. Fragen, D. Hoffman, D. Byrne, K. Salvano, C. Cuccio, J. Dillon. Seventh: Mr. Routenberg — sponsor. Rear: R. Johnsen, S. Trilling — cohead, R. Bockinger — co-head, P. Bloom.

MUSIC

This year's music department must have been hot when the symphonic and concert wind ensemble promoted their concert with the "William Tell Overture" blasting over the loud speaker. Meanwhile, the NT-W choir was invited to the Six Flags music competition in St. Louis, Missouri. Also, the famous NT-W Jazz ensemble presented a number of jam sessions throughout the year. This year's special program of musical events emphasized and appropriately culminated an outstanding NT-W music heritage.

FACULTY

What a year! The year began with the knowledge that it was "the beginning of the end" but that we would make it a year of celebration, not mourning. We were determined that the planning and preparation for next year would not overshadow the events and activities of this year.

October began with a difficult and painful experience for everyone, except the students, at least at first, when failure to reach a contract settlement resulted in a nine-day strike. Agreement was reached after seemingly endless negotiations and hard-won compromises on both sides. Memories remain: standing in the cold with picket signs, national media coverage, injunction, the tense and peculiar atmosphere at Lights Night, heated negotiations, facts and rumors, long meetings and much soul-searching.

Although campus administrators, department chairmen and head coaches were selected during the summer, activities sponsors and many other positions were determined this year, adding drama and excitement to an already hectic year. In the end, West was well-represented in the structure of the "new" New Trier. In the midst of all this, the faculty and staff continued to impart knowledge and share ideas, thoughts, concerns and plans with their students and advisees.

The quality education that is available at New Trier West is rare, and only possible through the efforts and dedication of an excellent faculty and staff. That will not change as long as it remains a priority for the community, the Board of Education, the administration, the faculty and the students.

Now, for most of us, it is time to pack up, look around, and move on. For others, to begin again — a new use for a great place. For all, it is time to get ready for another exciting year . . .

STUDENTS

Faces of NT-W in 1965.

Faces in 1981.

What expressions can you see?

What do all these faces see on graduation day?

Things in the past.

Final exams, friends, good and bad times.

Things in the future.

College, a job and a family.

Have these last four years prepared them

Well for what's ahead?

Well, one thing's for sure —

There'll be a lot of happy faces
on the alumni of New Trier!

CLASS OF '81

Senior year at last! The first seniors of NT-W were actually seniors for three years. Seems like paradise right? Well not exactly, it's more like a struggle to get to graduation day. Taking SAT's or ACT's for a third time, filling out complicated college applications, surviving AP courses and then waiting to see which college wants you. That's senior year. Is it really as easy as everyone says? Only one who has been a senior knows for sure.

COMMUNITY

The Community for Alternatives in Education:

An alternative school within the walls of New Trier.

The Community: studying ecology in the Colorado Rocky Mountains; saving lives as an assistant paramedic with the Northfield Fire Department; staking out a city council meeting as an intern reporter for WLUP radio; cross country skiing to school for gym credit; fasting 8 days for nutrition class; discussions and Doritos at Great Books class at 11:30 pm; pancakes, orange juice and paperwork with your advisory on Friday mornings.

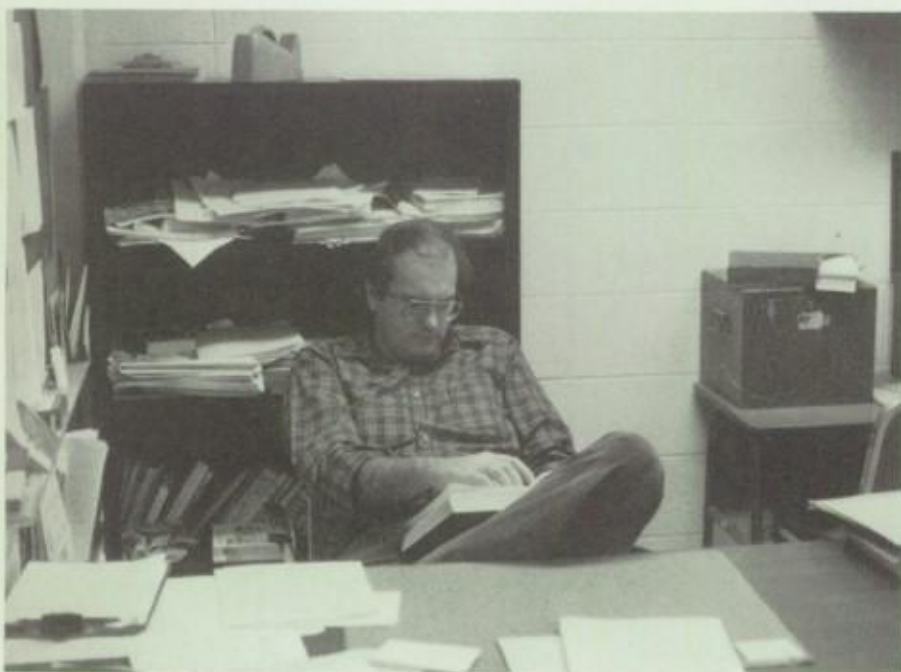

The Community; A program for motivated individuals who want to challenge themselves.

A place to learn exactly what you want to learn; the way you want to learn it. A chance to discover that you really can turn dreams into reality.

CLASS OF '82

Junior year — not yet the kings of the school. College plans only beginning to form in the back of the minds. "Buckle down" are the junior "theme" words for this year. The mind echoes over and over: "I have to raise my grade point average and raise my class rank. I will then be ready for a well-deserved senior

SLUMP.

CLASS OF '83

I'm so glad I'm not a freshman anymore because now instead of the upperclassmen continually picking on me, they'll respect me and ask me to join their clubs and invite me to parties where I can get drunk and show them that I'm cool so I'll be able to get popular and make my Junior year fun even though I'll have to do my Junior theme and learn how not to make run on sentences like the one I'm finishing right now.

CLASS OF '84

This year's Freshman class will only be able to experience NT-W for one year. For the next three years they will hold within them the memory of that lost school that helped create the "new" New Trier. They will be able to tell stories of that fabled paradise on 7 Happ Road in Northfield to all those who seek to learn about their school's heritage. NT-W lives forever.

A YEAR OF CELEBRATION

This school year has indeed been one of celebration for NT-W students and faculty. And so, these last ten pages are devoted to recapturing the highlights of this special year. It all began with the formation of a Celebration Committee. This committee, comprised of students, faculty and residents of the community, planned events that would make the last year of NT-W memorable. Upon returning to school this fall we noticed the blue and white banners in the hallways of the school proclaiming "NTW 16." These banners, along with a special flag were ideas initiated by the Celebration Committee. Another unique feature was the addition of NT-W historical news briefs to the school bulletin.

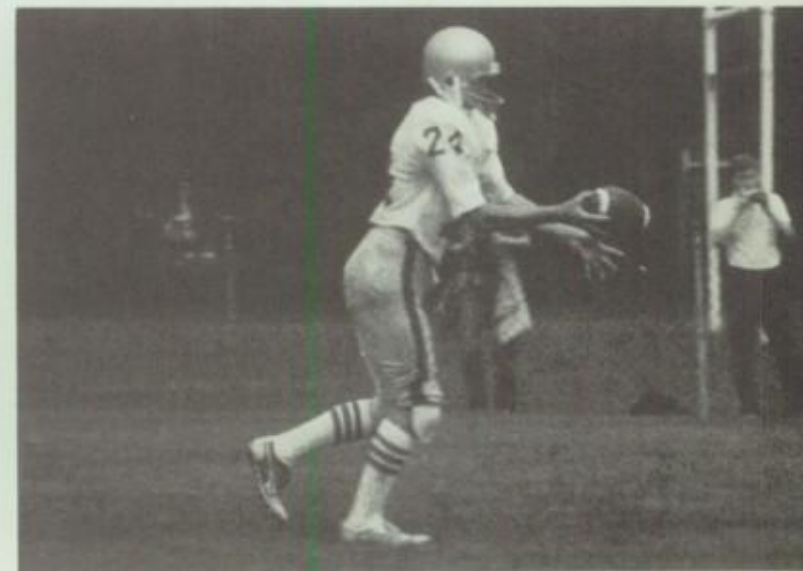

FALL EVENTS

During the fall NT-W students had many opportunities to enjoy noteworthy experiences. First, shortly after the opening of school, the teachers went on strike. The strike lasted nine days and enabled students to enjoy an unexpected vacation.

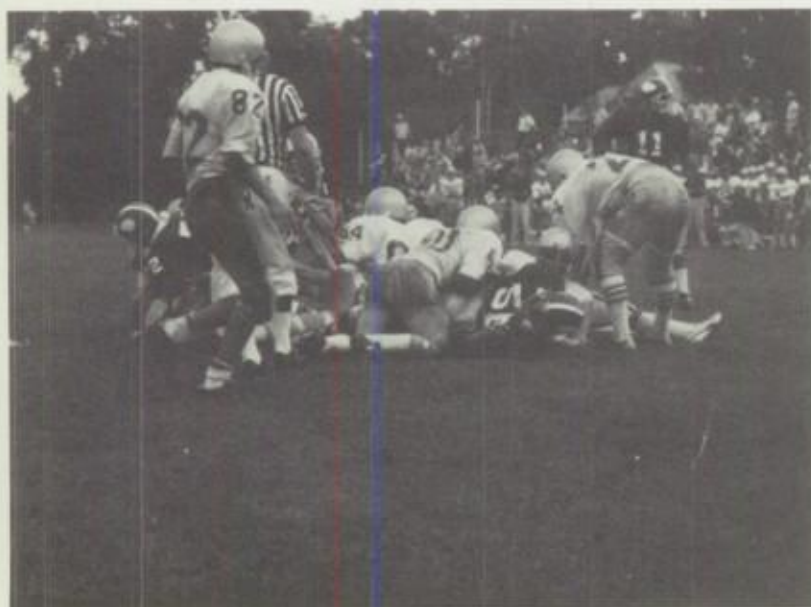

During the strike the only school event which took place was Lights Night. Lights Night was a fundraiser to help pay for the lights on the football field.

Lights Night included a band and raffle for a car. Faculty, administrators, board members, parents and students had a strange feeling that evening in regard to the continuing school strike, but Lights Night went off without a hitch and made a big dent in the light bill. With the return of faculty and students to school came the announcement of an event entitled "The Living Emblem". To create this "Living Emblem" students gathered in assigned spots on the football field to form "NT-W 1981". This scene was then photographed and prints sold to students, the money used for "Celebration activities". About the same time the emblem was created, NT-W sports fans had a lot to cheer about as the Girls' Tennis team became the State Champions.

Coached by Ms. Frazier, the girls who captured this title were: Mary Debartolo, Debbie Wise, Carrie Bruce, Maeve Quinlan, Cathy Van Pelt and Lisa Gollub. Meanwhile, Coach Naughton needed just two wins to reach a career record of 100 football victories. This goal was met in a game against Highland Park as the Cowboys defeated the Giants 18-6.

Sports teams were not the only active bodies on campus this fall; clubs were here in full force. Girls' Club got the year off to a good start with the Daddy Daughter Dinner Dance entitled "Sugar and Spice." Non-Class Time followed suit with soap opera star Peter Bergman, his wife NT-W graduate Christine Ebersole, career day and sports week. Student Association also played an integral part in the events this fall, sponsoring the 50's Dance and Halloween party. In addition, SA performed some special tasks. (No, not emptying the garbage or cleaning the school.) First, organizing the Constitutional Convention by combining with East students to write a new constitution. SA also helped to pick 35 West students for the notorious "Committee of 71." This special group came up with color combinations and mottos for the "new" New Trier. One kid actually suggested the yellow and black sting bees?! After all the ballots were counted, the color choice of blue, green and grey and the nickname Trevians were clearly the winners. An important part of the fall term every year is the Fine Arts program. This year's Potpourri (Student written and produced musical) coincided with the celebration theme. Entitled, "Let's Celebrate" the show consisted of scenes of celebrations such as birthdays, weddings and surprise parties. Next in line were the fall choral and instrumental concerts. The fall drama presentation this year was Arthur Miller's "All My Sons". During December, choral students were able "to take the show on the road" by performing at luncheons, train stations and jr. highs. At Jazz Jam Sessions #2, NT-W students and faculty joined together to say thanks with a gift. During the concert Mr. Lair presented matron Lucy Sutton with several gifts in memory of her late husband, Ernie, who also worked at NT-W. The gifts Lucy received were: round trip air fare to Atlanta, Georgia, where her family lives, a tape recorder, a gift certificate to purchase tapes, and a copy of the NT-W Jazz Ensemble's record. This event marked the end to a most exciting fall at NT-W.

After winter break students returned to find cold temperatures and snow covered grounds at NT-W. Unlike previous years however, as a result of the teachers' strike, students were not required to take first semester finals. Nevertheless, students felt the grind during mid January as teachers assigned big papers and gave comprehensive tests. On January 20, Inauguration Day, an announcement came over the PA declaring that the hostages were finally free. As a tribute to the hostages, students were given another day off. As the first semester came to a close seniors breathed a sigh of relief and looked forward to their last few months of high school. As a part of their last semester, many seniors participated in the annual blood drive. The senior steering committee did an excellent job and the goal of 125 pints was surpassed. While seniors were giving blood, sophomores were busy with an all day excursion to NT-E. The purpose of the excursion was to familiarize students with their future school and classmates. As always, sports teams flourished at NT-W this winter. Although not as successful as in preceeding years the boys basketball team finished the season with a respectable 6-6 conference record. One of the big stars of the team this year was 6'4" junior Andy Fischer who broke a school record by scoring 39 points in a single game. The Cowboys excelled in swimming this winter, too, by capturing their third consecutive Central Suburban League title. The Cowboy tankers also qualified five men for the state meet. Fencing, a rarely publicized sports at NT-W had a very productive season. The fencers, coached by Mr. Campbell, took sixth place in the state. Another team that had a strong season was girls' gymnastics. Led by sophomore Julie Mitchel these girls had a strong performance at the league meet.

WINTER EVENTS

OF 1981

The cold weather did not freeze club activities either. Girls' Club sponsored the annual carnation drive and the walls of the SM corridor were again covered with red paper hearts. Also in conjunction with Valentines Day, the turnabout dance was sponsored by AFS. For NT-W ski buffs, I.M. offered several ski trips and only one was cancelled, due to extreme cold. Pep Club also got into the spirit of the celebration this winter by sponsoring Spirit Week. This event was new to NT-W this year and almost made up for the loss of Homecoming in the fall. The week's events included Western Day, Clash Day, Backwards Day, Sweats Day, Spirit Day, a pep assembly, the final home basketball game (We won!), Baskin-Robbins ice cream sundaes, and the music of the Mindbenders. The week after Spirit week was SA's Wintermania. Despite the absence of snow the events took place. The highlights included advisory tug of war and "All the ice cream you can eat" for just one dollar. SA also sent six students to the Presidential Classroom program in Washington D.C. this winter. Music also played a big part at NT-W this winter. Famous trumpeter Marvin Stamm appeared at NT-W and played with the Jazz Ensemble. The instrumental groups gave their winter concert which included several solos. The highlight was the playing of the William Tell Overture. "Annie Get Your Gun" was the musical this year. Students especially enjoyed the Western atmosphere. It was a real tribute to the NT-W Cowboys (and cowgirls of course). Ron Goldstein and Nancy Katlin gave outstanding performances as Frank and Annie, the lead roles. Yes, NT-W students had enough excitement to keep warm throughout the winter.

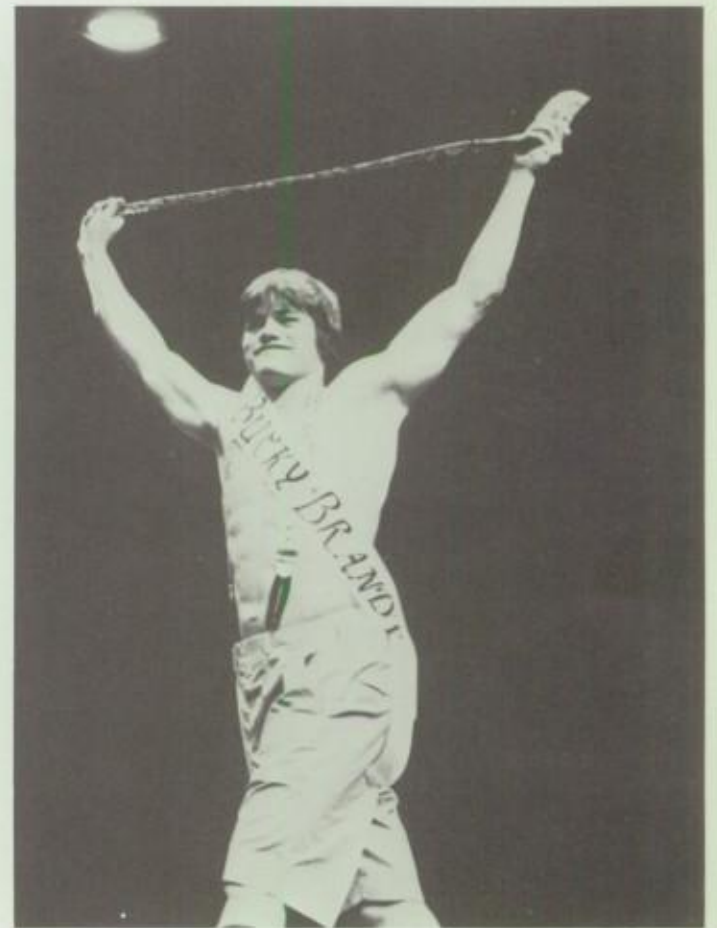

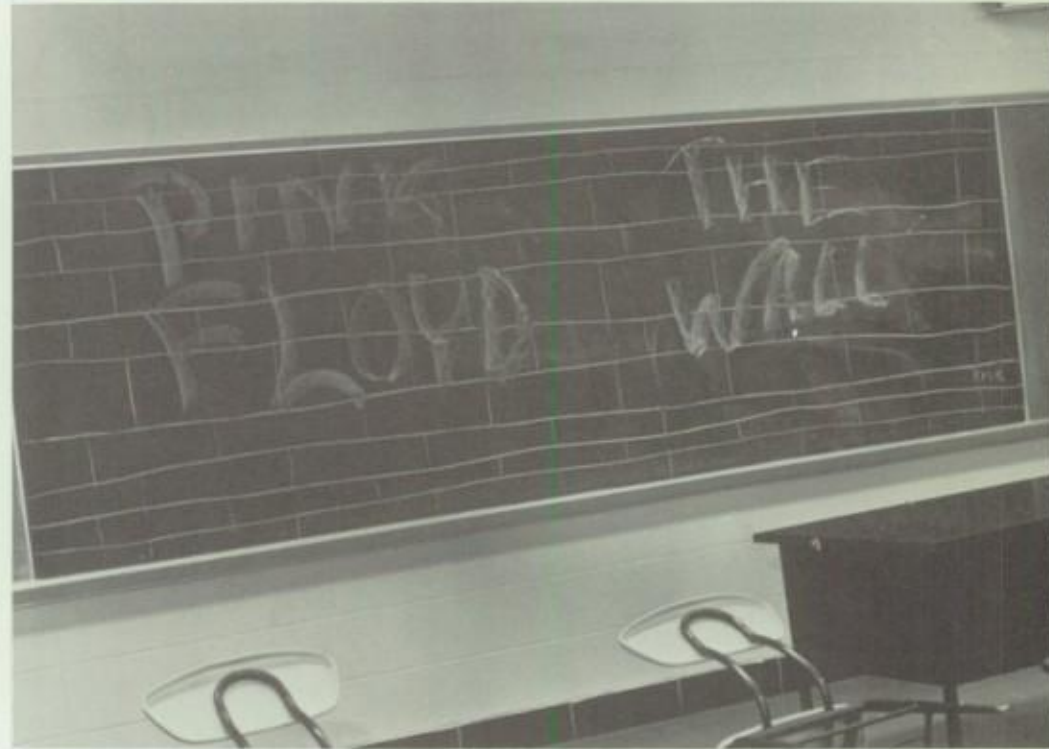

SPRING EVENTS

Feelings of sorrow and excitement became a part of the atmosphere at NT-W as spring arrived. Sorrow was felt by all — sorrow at leaving this building and some of its traditions behind. But there was also the excitement of creating a new school and a fresh start in new surroundings.

The Seniors, making sure they would not be forgotten, led off the spring events with a male beauty contest. It was entitled "The Mr. New Trier West Beauty Contest" and featured 24 men, juniors and seniors, who endured formalwear, talent and question and answer competition. When the votes were in, senior Bob Peterson was crowned the first and only Mr. New Trier West. Among the talents of Mr. NT-W were eating a raw egg, dog food and a live goldfish. That's talent!

After the success of the beauty contest the Juniors were eager to try their hands at coordinating a special event. Prom was the occasion. The theme of this prom was "The Best of Times" and it was held downtown at the Blackstone Hotel. Dinner, dancing, drinking and romance were a part of this special evening for some. In addition to the beauty contest and the prom, classes participated in exchanges with East students to familiarize themselves with the school they would be going to next year and to get to know their new classmates.

Clubs were more active than ever this spring as they held their final events. Student Association planned the "Final Fling," the biggest celebration of the year. Girls' Club, with the help of 13 beauties, helped NT-W celebrate her "sweet-sixteen" at the Mother-Daughter Fashion Show. While they were busy with that, Social Service planned the last annual Social Service Day. This special day was highlighted by guest speakers talking with students about everything from old age to street gangs. Another last annual event was the always-popular Law Day, sponsored by the Non-Class Time Committee. It featured presentations on all aspects of the law by policemen, judges, lawyers and politicians. Spring wouldn't be spring if we didn't get wet, and getting wet was just what happened as students performed in the water ballet. This year's show, "Water Boogie" featured popular music, lovely legs and lots of splashing.

The clubs were active and so were the teams. The Badminton Team turned in another impressive season which included a first place victory in the NT-W Invitational. The birdies were flying high. The Boys' Tennis Team had another successful season too. Lacrosse, a little publicized sport, was more popular than ever this year, with much credit due to their new coach, Mr. Longaway.

In addition to the sports and clubs, the Fine Arts Program continued to flourish. We had the last Jazz Ensemble concert, a four hour extravaganza which featured alumni playing with the present members. Next, was the Studio Theatre production of "Sneaky Fitch" in March. "Harvey" (about a rabbit), the Dance Concert, The Fine Arts Festival and the Nancy Murray Memorial Scholarship Exhibition rounded out a final, fantastic year for the Fine Arts at West. The last note was performed at the Commencement Concert as seniors had their last chance to sing and play their instruments at NT-W.

All in all, there was sorrow and celebration. It was a year that made us proud, and very aware, of this school and its traditions. As the graduates walked down the aisle at Commencement the sun set behind New Trier West, but for most of us who have been here the sun will never go down on New Trier West. The memories of this place will continue to glow . . .

The stars above still twinkled nightly,
But their glow didn't last quite as long.
And in the streets a silence stayed.
The seas grew still and the fire blazed.
Secretly in the young man's heart —
Though he was dreaming, worlds apart,
